WARNING "Don't get yourself involved if you can WORK "But is it false (not)? This video, entitled "Christmas Kittens", shows a boy who kills two innocent and fascinating kittens. I looked at some pieces to confirm it was the video. Although, I tend to never erase these images from my memory and feel that this harms me psychologically. There are many updates to this page because the page has evolved and we remind you that the page was written before May 25, 2012, period when history was fresh and constantly evolving on the internet. THE VIDEO IS NOW "DIC 2019." ON THIS PAGINA IF I FARE AND IF I DO WORK. Please scroll down or read the PAGINA as it contains UTILIZED INFORMATION.Update October 3, 2014: kittens were killed and the alleged responsible is Luka Rocco Magnotta (born Eric Clinton Kirk Newman; July 24, 1982). There is a second video of him feeding kittens to a python (NY Post). This video generated a conspiracy theory when someone else's hand enters the video. Did he have an accomplice or are the hands of the snake master? In fact, Luka's mother says that the hand (which does not move) is in the video of the killing of the kitten and that belongs to Emanuel «Manny» Lopez. He wants the police to investigate. Because the hand is static it is said that it is not real. Magnotta claims he was forced by Manny to do this terrible thing. But the authorities say it's an imaginary character. Magnotta had a diagnosis of paranoid schizophrenia by teenager. He is accused of killing and dismembering the Chinese international student Lin Jun. I think your process is coming to the date of this update (more information at the bottom of the page). Luka Rocco Magnotta the person who filmed while killing kittensI found the real video "see below update: although it initially worked, it does not work anymore 5 hours later. On YouTube there are other versions, but it is a single screen like the one below. The video starts in a very sinister way. Apparently, he takes two kittens and closes them in a vacuum bag, then aspires all the air and looks them to die. Very sad because kittens are defenseless and the boy and his friends laugh and play Christmas songsâ; Please help us find this crazy maniac. . I provided these screenshots in case someone deletes the video to the source, leaving the black screen. NOTE: CLICK ON THE LINKS TO SEE THE MMAGES. I CAN PRESENT ON THIS PAGINE FOR WARNING OBJECTIVES. SORRY CLICCA HERE TO SEE A SCRESHOT OF VIDEOE ALTRO SCREENSHOTThe video is (era?) on www.flix.co.il. It is a site based in Israel or it concerns Israel as the Hebrew language. Here is the video: update: it no longer works...see link to the video belowI posted this page because I feel I have to do it. I have inserted thisin the cat behavior page because so much of the cat behavior actually concerns us. It's a well-known fact The abuse of animals by young people can be a precursor of the abuse of the same people and worse. There is a classic case in the newspapers this morning (22 December 2010) of stephen griffiths, which is called "the cannibal of the Balestra.» his alter ego on facebook is "Ven Pariah." is described by a psychiatrist as "a sadistic psychopath." a neighbor tells that he has seen it as a thirteen-year-old child, "catturing, killing" and said. He ended up killing three women, two with a crossbow at his head, the third with a hammer. He cooked and ate two, the third raw. We should try to identify this person. Check things out and if you killed two kittens in this sadistic way, you need care and punishment and then a lifetime monitoring to protect the public. Link to the website page that hosts the video:also this doesn't work anymore... very strange, I'm sorry. broken links. on December 26, 2019 I found the video thanks to a commentator (see comment below). Since google advertisers are not comfortable with this kind of video for understandable reasons, I must publish it on a page where there are no ads. Please click on the link below. the link takes you to the video. thank you, and sorry for L'INCONVENIENZA. you can see the video posted on this LINK.Additional updates Dec 2019:Luka magnotta the kitten killer from the child's face and then a men's killer. photo: rex features. I added this image as an update as it shows its child face image. A veneer behind which he is smiling weakly. He seems happy and calm at the time of his arrest. Here's a little more about luka magnotta in short (if you want to read even more by clicking on this link.) The killing of the two kittens must have occurred before the killing of lin jun, which can be summered as follows. Magnotta has been suffering from schizophrenia since 2000. He fled the canada after a 11-minute video titled 1 lunatic 1 ice pick was uploaded to Bestgore.com where he is depicted a naked man stabbed with a icebreaker and then dismembered followed by acts of necrophilia. He was arrested to sedan while reading about himself in a coffee. He tried to escape by giving false names. on May 29, 2012 a left foot was sent to the headquarters of the Conservative Party of Canada, then the left hand was sent to the liberal party. He was intercepted. These were the parts of the body of lin jun. his head was found in a lake in montreal, Canada. Magnotta was convicted of murder (and other crimes) after 12 weeks of trial on December 14, 2014 after he was not guilty of schizophrenia. the jury stayed for 8 days. he is serving life and will be able to obtain probation in 25 years from 2014, although according to some news will bewithout parole. He was also sentenced to 19 years for other crimes. Wikipedia source. NetflixMan is well known for netflix to pay a full documentary about him. Here's the trailer. caravans.It was aired on 18 December 2019. On December 20, the feedback from people who have seen the video is interesting. I have never seen anything so disturbing in my entire life and I watched some hard documentaries of crime. what a sick individual The movie was described as brutal. It made some spectators cry. Magnotta never ceases to shock and disturb. A comment said it made him cry. I'd like to thank Ruth for letting me know this story. From WARNING à Video of Boy Killing Two Kittens to Cat Behavior Health professional information Author: Dr Monica Pahuja* What is a transvaginal ultrasound? Ultrasound is the term used for high frequency sound waves. Ultrasound exams use these sound waves to produce an image or image on a screen that shows the inside of the body. An ultrasound is performed by a trained healthcare professional (sonographer, radiologist or sonologist). Transvaginal ultrasound is an examination of the female pelvis. It helps to see if there is any abnormality in the uterus (dust), cervix (breast neck), endometrium (lining of the lap), fallopian tubes, ovaries, bladder or pelvic cavity. Look at the pelvic organs from inside the vagina using a special smooth, thin, handheld device called a transducer. This differs from an abdominal ultrasound, which uses a clear hot water-based gel applied to the skin of the abdomen and the transducer is moved gently through the pelvic area. All ultrasound transducers transmit high-frequency sound waves, and these are reflected from different soft tissues, structures or body parts in different ways. These sound waves are converted into electrical pulses that produce a moving image on a screen. An ultrasound scanner has many advantages. It is painless and does not involve radiation, which means it is very safe. There are no injections unless your doctor has explicitly ordered one. High-frequency sound waves ensure that the images show very high detail, able to look at the dullest parts of the body. A health professional will be there with you, and you have the opportunity to communicate any concerns you have. Why did my doctor ask me to have this procedure? The test is required by your doctor if you have symptoms of pelvic pain or abnormal bleeding, or to check for fibroids (muscle tumors of the uterus), polyps (thickening areas of the uterus lining), ovarian cysts or tumors, infertility, or early pregnancy assessment. It is often followed by an ultrasound abdominal scan using a smooth handheld transducer on the outside of the body, on the lower abdomen (tummy). A transvaginal ultrasound provides much more detailed images of the organs in the pelvis, particularly the uterus (including the fallopian tubes and ovaries), than an ultrasound scan. pelvis from the lower abdomen. How do I prepare for a transvaginal ultrasound? No preparation is required. You will be asked to go to the bathroom and empty your bladder the proof that is carried out. If you are having a period, the exam can still be carried out and is often an advantage when evaluating some gynecological problems. If you wear a tampon, you will need to be removed. A transvaginal ultrasound is a personally invasive examination, so before you have the test you might ask to sign a consent form. At any time, the dignity and privacy of the patient are protected during the examination. The exam is carried out by sonographs that can be male or female. Upon arrival at the radiology facility, it is necessary to inform the reception if you are not comfortable with a male sonograph and request a female sonograph to carry out the exam. If a female sonograph is not available, then your appointment may be rescheduled. If you do not object to a male sonograph, the staff of the radiological structure will arrange a female health worker to act as a chaperone (i.e. someone who will accompany you and will support you during the examination: see Chaperone - InsideRadiology: About Radiology: General information. If you feel uncomfortable or embarrassed at the thought of the test, you can ask a chaperone to be present if a male or female sonograph should carry out the exam. You can also request a member of the family to be present. If you decide not to have a transvaginal ultrasound, you must inform the reception staff at the radiology facility and you can request an abdominal ultrasound. If you have an ultrasound abdominal, you need to drink two or three glasses of water 30 minutes before the test so that you have a complete bladder. It is a good idea to wear comfortable clothing that gives easy access to the lower part of your body. What happens during a transvaginal ultrasound? After emptying the bladder, you will be asked to undress from your waist down and you will be asked to wear a dress. You'll be asked to lie on an exam bed. Generally, a sheet is provided to cover you. You will be asked to bend your legs and the special transducer is inserted into the vagina. The transducer is slightly larger than a tampon and particularly shaped to fit comfortably into the vagina. A protective cover is placed above the transducer and warm lubricant gel is applied to it for ease of insertion. It is gently moved around inside the basin and the images are taken. You might have your lower abdomen pushed with the hand of examiners to try to get some of the pelvic organs closer to the transducer for better images. The exam is carried out in "real time", which means that the images you see on the screen show the inside of your pelvic area (low abdomen). Photographs are still taken during the exam. At the end of the test, the probe is completely sterilized andAre there any effects after a transvaginal ultrasound? There are no effects after a transvaginal ultrasound. You will be able to resume normal activities. It can be noticed a little lightdischarge from the lubrication gel after the test, which should cease within 24 hours. How long does it take for a transvaginal ultrasound? The exam takes between 15 and 30 minutes. sometimes you will be asked to wait and check the images from the radiologist or the obstetric sonologue (medici specialist.) The echograph, the health care provider carrying out the echograph, may ask the doctor to enter the room and check what was seen. Usually the doctor will let you know what they saw and if there is any doubt. In some facilities, the doctor or specialist will carry out the examination and will usually inform you of the results. What are the risks of transvaginal ultrasound? There are no known risks of transvaginal ultrasound. uses sound waves to get images and there is no radiation involved. if it is pregnant, there are no risks to the fetus (children not yet born.) if it is pregnant and the water has broken, but has no birth (it is a premature breakup of the membranes,) it is not advisable to undergo an ultrasound due to a slight increase in the risk of infection for the unborn child. in case of pregnancy known for having an abnormally low placenta (called placenta praevia) and vaginal bleeding, it is not advisable to undergo transvaginal ultrasound, as this could worsen bleeding. What are the benefits of transvaginal ultrasound? The insertion of the transducer into the vagina allows a very close and sharp vision of the pelvic organs, and ultrasonic images of the area. this will help guide discussion between you and your doctor about any further investigations or treatments that may be necessary. who does transvaginal ultrasound? The exam is carried out by ultrasound, specially trained and accredited health professionals to carry out the exam. The echograph may leave the room to show the images to the doctor, who may enter and scan again if something has to be checked. a full scan report will be written and sent to the reference doctor. in some hospitals or radiology facilities, a soundtrack or radiologist (medical specialists) may take the exam. Other health workers, usually a nurse, may also be present. where is a transvaginal ultrasound made? The examination is carried out in a radiology department of a hospital, in a private radiology study or in a clinic specialized in obstetric and gynecological imaging. The examination is carried out in the intimacy of an ultrasound room, which could be poorly illuminated to allow a clear view of the images on the ultrasound screen. to maintain your privacy, the exam door is closed and on the outside there is a sign indicating that an ultrasound examination is underway. When can I expect the results of my transvaginal ultrasound? the timeto the doctor to receive a written report varies: thethe radiological clinic, clinic or hospital where the operation is carried out will be able to communicate to you when the doctor receives the report. It is important that you discuss the results with your doctor, in person or by phone, so that they can explain what the results mean for you. *The author has no conflicts of interest with this subject.
